Famine Prices Prevail in Port Arthur

THEFT PUNISHABLE BY DEATH

The Horrors of Famine Are Being Added to the Terrors of War in the Beleaguered City

London, June 1.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at New Chwang says: "Some Chinese fugitives from Port Arthur, who have arrived here, describe the condition of the inhabitants there as desperate. Famine prices exist and the cost of provisions increases weekly. Many persons are reduced to eating Chinese food, and even that is dear. Whole streets and several public buildings have been wrecked by the Japanese shells. The hospitals are packed with sick and wounded. The work of repairing the damaged warships is stopped. All civilians have been given military duties. The general health of the inhabitants is good, except that of the Chinese who are dying of starvation. Theft has been made punishable by death. The railway is completely destroyed as far as Kin Chou and there are frequent traps in it between Kin Chou and Wa Fang Tien. At Wa Fang Tien there are 15,000 Japanese troops; there are no signs of troops further north. During the fighting at Kin Chou 200 Chinese were killed by the Japanese fire directed against positions that the Russians had evacuated."

Mukden, May 31.—The Japanese on the night of May 28th made another attempt to block Port Arthur by sinking merchant vessels in the harbor entrance. The attempt was deserted through the operations of a searchlight and two torpedo boat destroyers were sunk. The merchantmen then retired.

Tokio, May 31.—Four gunboats, two destroyers and a torpedo boat, sent to Port Arthur early on Monday morning by Vice-Admiral Togo, effected a careful reconnaissance, facing a heavy fire from the mainland batteries. They discovered a new Russian searchlight station and one or two new forts on the Liao Tien Shan promontory. No. 3 gunboat was struck by a shell which killed one petty officer, injured three men and damaged one of her guns. The other boats escaped without any damage.

Chefoo, May 31.—The Japanese have occupied Mouteling Pass, in the mountains, one hundred miles north of Feng Wang Cheng, and directly east of Liao Yang.

Tokio, May 31.—The Russians evacuated Dalny so hastily that they failed to destroy much property which will prove highly valuable to the Japanese.

General Oku's scouts report that over one hundred barracks and storehouses remain uninjured. The railway and telegraph stations, with 200 passenger and freight coaches are also uninjured. The Russians destroyed this big pier and blocked all the dock entrances with sunken steamers. They destroyed all the small bridges in the vicinity of the docks, but left the arches uninjured.

FAREWELL BANQUET

Hall's Cafe was the scene of a joyous gathering last night when the firm and employees of Ross Bros., Limited, tendered a complimentary banquet to Mr. Walter M. Brayton, who has for some time held the position of head plumber with the company, and who has severed his connection to return to the East. The members and employees of the company present numbered about forty, and the entire party made up a company of forty-five. Though the cafe is not yet quite completed and will not be open for business for a few days, the culinary arrangements were strictly up to the mark and reflected great credit on the enterprising proprietor.

After the substantial viands provided had been done justice, the following toast list was carried out, Mr. J. Stein as provost.

Canada, Mr. F. M. Quinn.

The Firm, Messrs. F. Ross and J. C. Dowsett.

At this juncture the guest of the evening was made the recipient of a beautiful gold locket, Mr. C. Ross making the presentation. Mr.

Brayton responded in a suitable manner.

Hardware Department, Messrs. J. Dodds and J. Forsythe.

The Tinsmiths, Messrs. H. McJannet and W. Hope.

The Plumbers, Messrs. W. McAdam and W. Heath.

Drygoods and Grocery Departments, Messrs. Carmichael, Collins and Bannard.

Music was furnished by an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Plowright, and much appreciated solos were given by Mr. Stutchbury and Mr. Day. Mr. Percy Hook presided at the piano.

The banquet concluded at an early hour with a vote of thanks to the host, which was suitably replied to by Mr. Hall.

WAR NOTES

No terms of praise are considered too high by London military writers in describing the Japanese capture of Kin Chou. "This feat of arms on the part of the Japanese," says a Daily Mail contributor, "was an exceedingly brilliant one. They carried by storm a position which may be called the Thermopylae of the Far East, in the face of heavy Russian batteries, entrenchments, rifle-pits, wire entanglements, and all the devices of military engineers and after sixteen hours of battle succeeded in forcing the Russian positions which command the narrow neck at Kin Chou, where the width of front is only two miles, so that turning movements are necessarily difficult."

After pointing out that at Kin Chou the utmost skill and all the resources that Russian engineers and their generals could apply were directed to making an exceptionally favorable site impregnable, a position that should render access to the all-important harbor and fortress of Port Arthur impossible and should save Dalny from the necessity of destruction, the military correspondent of the Daily Telegraph writes: "Only by a combination of skill, knowledge of war, patient, careful circumspection, and of self-sacrifice and gallantry, rare indeed in the annals of history, could victory under these conditions have been achieved. All these qualities were displayed by the Japanese army throughout its ranks, and the Russians have not only been defeated, but so completely worsted that they appear to have abandoned without resistance their second series of works scarcely less thoroughly prepared than the first."

Shanghai, May 27.—The local steamship agents, in view of the drifting of Russian mines, are instructing the captains of their vessels not to traverse the danger zone between the Chan Tung promontory and the Miao Tan group of islands during the night.

Tokio, May 27.—On the shore of Talien Wan Bay, close to the head of the bay, the Russians had established a series of positions. Here were set up the searchlights, which nightly played over the Japanese angle in the hills to the northeast. Further reconnaissances developed the fact that west of Lin Chia Tien the Russians had no defences. Extending to the northward from Yin Chia Tien to the west coast of the Liao Tung peninsula, there were no defences whatever, except the force routed at Kin Chou. This gap in the defence was a fatal defect in the Russian position, and when it was perceived the Japanese extended their right to the north and east, enveloping Kin Chou and the Russian extreme right. The Japanese left also was extended to Wang Chia Tung, on the shore of Talien Wan Bay, and the centre moved forward. Wednesday morning at half past five, the Japanese attacked Kin Chou, and for three hours they had an artillery duel with the batteries on Nanshan hill. The Russian gunners searched the Japanese lines with their fire, but failed to inflict much damage. The battle was resumed at dawn on Thursday. Three Japanese gunboats then entered Kin Chou Bay, and in co-operation with the artillery on shore shelled the Russian position on Nanshan hill. A Russian gunboat in Talien Wan Bay steamed close to the shore and shelled the Japanese left. From dawn the batteries on both sides hammered away at each other. At an early hour the Japanese infantry moved forward, and at twenty minutes past five on Thursday morning they entered Kin Chou, the Russians retiring to the south. The fighting continued into Thursday night, the Japanese pressing to the south and storming Nanshan hill. They followed the retreating Russians through the southern hills. The reports received here fail to cover the events on the Russian right. It is probable, however, that the Russians have abandoned these positions. The Japanese made a series of assaults before the Russians finally evacuated the positions. The Russians abandoned this hill at three o'clock in the afternoon, retreating toward Nan Quan Ling, where a second line of defences existed.

Subsequent reports received here indicate that the storming of the Nanshan hill was a bloody affair. The Japanese centered their fire on the Russian batteries, in which work they were aided by four gunboats from Kin Chou Bay. They succeeded in silencing many of the enemy's guns. The Russians had constructed a series of trenches around the hill on a terrace protected by wire entanglements and other such devices. The Japanese made a series of rushes, but they were in vain. The deadly rifle and cannon fire of the enemy checked them repeatedly. Finally at three o'clock in the afternoon, the Japanese reformed and stormed the crest of the hill. The Russians held to their positions doggedly and it was seven o'clock in the evening before the Japanese finally gained possession of the ridge.

Chicago, May 27.—A special to the Daily News from Tokio says: "The Japanese fought bravely for sixteen hours yesterday under an extremely heavy fire before clearing the Russians from the southern heights after a brave resistance. The Muscovites made several attempts to retake the hill, but after much loss of life, retired finally from the narrowest part of the peninsula which had been held so long."

A Chefoo despatch says: "Considerable delay is expected before the Japanese follow up their reported victories on the narrowest part of Kin Chou isthmus. The fighting which preceded the fall of Kin Chou must have been exhausting and the ensuing pursuit must have left the Mikado's troops in no condition for a quick descent on Gen. Sloessel's second line of defence. On the left flank the Russians are protected by the foreshore of Kin Chou Bay, on the right by the fortifications of Dalny, while their main position is strongly fortified by a series of batteries. The Japanese thus will be compelled not only to make a frontal attack, but to encounter the fire of many guns, advantageously placed."

"Japan announces that the entire coast of Liao Tung peninsula lying south of a line between Pitsawo, on the east, and Pulantien, on the west, is in a state of effective blockade by the Japanese navy. The blockade will be maintained. The Japanese government evidently has refrained from declaring the peninsula in a state of blockade, which to be effective, must be maintained by land as well as by sea. The United States always has maintained that a proclamation of the blockade of an extensive coast, not supported by the actual presence of a naval power, competent in force, simultaneous, constant and effective operation on every point of such coast, is illegal throughout its whole extent, even for ports which may be in actual blockade. The government blockade proclamation by Japan throws the burden of proof on vessels attempting to run the blockade."

Washington, May 27.—The Japanese legation has received the following details of the attack on Kin Chou: "The enemy built several covered trenches around the fort and Nanshan hill and held the place stubbornly under strong defensive works. Nevertheless, after several attempts, the Japanese finally succeeded in taking the enemy's position by storm and in driving them towards Nan Kue Ling. This severe fight continued for sixteen hours. Admiral Togo telegraphs that a report was sent to him by wireless telegraph from the captain commanding the detached squadron, consisting of four gunboats and a torpedo flotilla, to the effect that the squadron reached Kin Chou Bay and co-operating with the army, bombarded Nanshan hill on May 26, and on witnessing our army occupying the forts on the hill, the squadron withdrew from the scene of the action. The captain of the gunboat Chokai was killed and nine others were killed and wounded. The damage to the vessel was insignificant."

Will Support the Government

Free Press: The following letter addressed by Mr. H. A. Mullins, who represented Russell in the last legislature in the Conservative interest, to Mr. S. L. Head, the Liberal candidate in Marquette, will be read with interest:

Winipeg, May 23rd, 1904.
 S. L. Head, Esq.,
 Rapid City, Man.

Dear Sir,—Having known you personally for the last fifteen or twenty years in a business way and recognizing that you are a candidate for the House of Commons in the field in the West, who possesses a thorough knowledge of the conditions and requirements of the cattle trade in this country, I feel that it is my duty from a business point of view as well as a pleasure from a personal standpoint to give you my hearty support and influence at the coming general election.

In this connection I might state that this will be the first occasion I have ever had to cast a Liberal vote; but I freely recognize the importance of having a man to represent the West at Ottawa who will demand that the cattle industry of this country receive the protection and consideration which such an important and growing trade requires.

This being the case, when the Liberal Government enunciated a railway policy which I believe to be one of the most essential factors in the future development of this country, I feel it my duty to support that policy irrespective of party politics or of former political convictions. I feel that the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be of great national importance and in the interest of the cattle raisers, as well as of the wheat producers of Western Canada.

The people of the County of Russell gave me the highest honors they had to bestow in 1899 when they elected me as their representative in the local House to look after and foster this industry; and with the opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific project the opportunity now offers itself for me to reiterate. I do not concur with the retrospective railway policy as laid down by the Conservative party at Ottawa.

The policy of the Conservative party of Manitoba has been to promote and develop the business prosperity of the Province in every way and the transportation question as represented by increased railway facilities. The Canadian Northern agreement has resulted in great benefit, has stimulated great activity in new districts and has proved conclusively that the Province cannot have too many railroads and the people of the Province have strongly endorsed the action of the Government in that case and without doubt will continue to support the local as well as the Dominion Government in promoting further railroad development and construction.

The Laurier administration at Ottawa exhibits a most wise and commendable appreciation of the necessities of the Northwest as shown in its highly successful immigration policy and particularly in its determination to encourage and assist in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific road which will give an immense impetus to the increase of population both in Manitoba and the Territories and advance the prosperity of all business interests in a very large way.

In fact the enormous results to follow the opening and settlement of such a vast territory are quite beyond my imagination to properly estimate and are not to be measured by the narrow bounds of any political party, thought or policy. Hence I consider it to be entirely consistent with sound and progressive Conservative principles to support prove of and strongly endorse the policy and legislation of the Laurier Government on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway question as being wise and far-sighted and in the best interests of the entire Northwest and calculated to result in the opening and building up of a vast extent of country and in bringing about a full realization of its magnificent possibilities.

I have no doubt that my course in reaching this opinion and in the position I take in the matter will have the approval and support of all Conservatives as well as of every patriotic citizen who has the true and best interests of the Province at heart.

Wishing you success and with kind regards, I am
 Yours truly,
 H. A. MULLINS.

Facts About Trusts

The Commercial:
 At the present time, according to figures compiled by John Moody in "The Truth About Trusts" there are 440, with a total floating capital amounting to the incalculable sum of $29,379,162,511. The greater industrial trusts, of which there are seven—copper, linseed oil, sugar, steel, tobacco, oil and smelting—are represented by an aggregate of outstanding stocks and bonds of a par value of $2,662,752,100. Of this amount $1,370,000,000 is included in the capitalization of the United States Steel Company and its subsidiary companies. These greater industrial trusts have all been organized since 1898, with the one exception of the sugar trust, and are all incorporated under New Jersey laws. They represent an aggregate consolidation of more than 1,500 distinct plants.

The State of New Jersey took the lead in legislation against trusts, and at the same time made special provisions facilitating their incorporation. This shows the dishonesty of the legislation. While in one sense desiring to "suppress the trusts," the State could not resist the temptation to make a revenue out of charters incorporating them. And that weakness explains domination wherever it develops. The present market value of these securities is about 30 per cent. below the par value. The distinctively Morgan properties comprise 60 per cent of the total par value, but only 37 per cent of the market value of these trusts. The balance of 63 per cent in market value is represented by the remaining five great trusts, which are all more or less strongly dominated by the Rockefeller interests.

The lesser industrial trusts, numbering 298 and comprising consolidations of more than 3,400 original plants, have a total par capitalization of $4,055,039,433. Thirteen additional important industrial trusts now undergoing reorganization or re-adjustment, and not included in this list, have a total capitalization of $628,551,000. Of the entire 318 active industrial trusts 170 are organized under New Jersey laws. They have for the most part come into existence since 1898.

Franchise consolidations, embracing telephone, telegraph, gas, electric light and electric railway companies, represent about 1,336 original corporations and have an outstanding capitalization of $3,755,456,071. In the telephone and telegraph industries alone there are eight trusts, including 136 original plants, and capitalized for $629,700,500. The steam railroad trusts cover railroad consolidations representing a combined outstanding capitalization of $9,397,363,907, or 80 per cent of all the railroad capital of the country and 95 per cent of the mileage. These railroad consolidations embrace about 1,040 original companies. The industrial, franchise, transportation, and miscellaneous trusts altogether embrace about 8,661 original companies. Of the industrial trusts 10 have $100,000,000 capitalization or over; 39 have $50,000,000 or over, and 129 $10,000,000 or more. Of the franchise trusts 23 exceed $50,000,000, 11 exceed $100,000,000, 23 exceed $50,000,000, and 94 exceed $5,000,000. Of the six great railroad groups, each exceeds $1,000,000,000; while the Morgan group exceeds $2,200,000,000.

BOARD OF TRADE

There was a small attendance at the board of trade meeting yesterday in the council chamber. A considerable amount of correspondence dealing with various matters was dealt with.

The chief item of interest in the discussion was the bill on the road leading out of Clover Bar. Action on the matter was left until the secretary confers with A. Driscoll, D.L.S., regarding the road.

The question of entertaining the Indiana Allied Press Association in July was also discussed.

DISCUSSED IN THE HOUSE

The Opposition Make Reflections Concerning the Galician Settlers. Mr. Borden Defends Them

Bulletin Special Dispatch.
Ottawa, May 31.—This afternoon Clarke of Toronto read a discussion respecting undesirable immigration, charging that payers and diseased persons are too freely admitted. Too many artisans and railway laborers, he said, are coming in.
Mr. Sifton stated that the Department had gone to great pains to make public in England and Europe the fact that certain agencies in the countries promising employment were wholly unauthorized and irresponsible. The House must recognize that it was most delicate and difficult for the department to decide that this or that man or group of men should or should not be prevented from entering Canada, if they came paying their own way. The discussion broadened and the opposition members asserted that the department was inducing much immigration that ought to be kept out. Mr. Sifton replied emphatically that the tens of thousands of settlers on Western lands were of a most desirable class and said they were vastly more prosperous on the average than the bulk of immigration which the United States are getting.
Leader Borden, seeing that his side was getting the worst of the argument, arose and said he refused to join in the vilification of his followers against the Galicians. He had found, when in the West, that the Galicians were good settlers. The balance of the day was spent on the bill placing Fort William and Port Arthur harbors under regulation by commissioners.

Germany Will Send Portugal a Sharp Note Regarding Slavery in West Africa

Bulletin Special Dispatch.
Berlin, June 1st.—There is absolutely no doubt that the German Government within the next few days will send an exceedingly sharp note to Portugal because of the smuggling of slaves in Southwest Africa. The German Colonial Department has positive proof that Hereroes for many years have been in the habit of exporting slaves from German territory and selling them to the Portuguese at Angola.

WESTERN NEWS

Gordon & Ironsides are still shipping in thousands of Mexican cattle to the range secured by them on the Blood Indian Reserve in Southern Alberta. Last week a train load of 900 arrived from Colonia, Chihuahua, this being the eighth trainload from that state and two others are already on the road.

Now that the May storm has passed the stockmen of the south are figuring out their losses during the winter and the results cannot fail in furnishing most convincing proof of the advantages of Southern Alberta as a range country. One of the most extensive ranching concerns, the Knight Ranching Company, report their total loss out of 13,000 head of range cattle has been less than thirty, and that without feeding.

Okotoks Review: Word was received on Tuesday that the body of A. Beupre, who was drowned last September with Sergeant Brooks and Joseph Dabury, had been found. The corpse, badly decomposed, was discovered in the river near the Blackfoot Crossing. All the bodies of the three unfortunate have now been found. The funeral of Mr. Beupre took place at Gleichen on Wednesday.

Blairmore Times: At the Frank mine over 100 men are now given employment and a large amount of coal is being delivered daily to the C.P.R. who are taking the entire output for their own use. In the face of the main entry which is about one and a half miles and has a vertical depth of over 1,200 feet, the vein has turned from standing nearly perpendicular to having a decided dip to the east. Out of entry last week as high as 350 tons per day was taken out and loaded on the cars. The shaft which is down some 360 feet, promises also to be in shape to maintain a large output.

A large deputation of Winnipeg wholesale men, members of the board of trade, interviewed Mr. W. Whyte in response to a request from Prince Albert board of trade. The deputation urged strongly on Mr. Whyte that no delay should be allowed in opening the Prince Albert branch for business, as considerable freight absolutely required by the settlers, and shipped from Winnipeg in March, has not yet reached its destination at points along that line. In some cases, cars of goods such as seeders, will be absolutely unsalable this year, and will have to be carried for twelve months. Mr. Whyte informed the deputation that all the trouble they had had since February 1st, was from snow blockades and washouts. He stated that the line was now open for delivery of freight to the broken bridge over the Saskatchewan, and that the necessary machinery and material was now on the ground and work would be vigorously prosecuted. Officials expect the bridge to be ready for business in ten days. The company are ferrying from six to eight carloads a day at Saskatoon, settlers' effects being given first preference. Mr. Whyte stated he had prepared a list of improvements, such as raising the grade at low points, that would have to be made by the owners of the road, and in case the owning company failed to do this, the C.P.R. would hand the road over to the owners for operating themselves.

The program for the annual prize meeting of the Territorial Rifle Association at Regina has just been issued. The meeting is to start on Tuesday, July 5th, and the concluding matches are scheduled for Friday. Following are the events to be shot for: First Day—Military match, Corporation of the City of Calgary match, the Transvaal cup. Second Day—Merchants' match, Association match. Third Day—Licensed Victuallers' match, Fifth Regiment of Canadian Mounted Rifles match. Fourth Day—Calgary Brewing Company match, Grand Aggregate match.

Toronto Star: There is a small army of about 1,500 people engaged in Toronto week in and week out making suits for the makers of Manitoba and the Northwest. And with modern machines 1,500 people can make a huge amount of clothing in a year. This is only in the garment that is known as ready-made clothing, and does not include underwear or clothing which does not go out in ready-made form. Toronto's ready-made clothing business has been going ahead with leaps and bounds in recent years, and to-day some 4,000 people find employment through it. The figure is an estimate, which might easily be below the mark, owing to the peculiar conditions in which the trade in some instances is carried on. The increase in recent years has been largely due to the development of the business in the Northwest, and to-day about one-third of the ready-made clothing manufactured in Toronto goes west of Lake Superior.

The Farm Well

Some rather startling facts in regard to the water supply of our farms, cheese factories and creameries, were brought out at the conference of dairy instructors and experts in Ottawa last fall, the official report of which is now being distributed by Mr. J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairy division, Ottawa. In discussing the sanitation of cheese factories and creameries, Dr. Connell, bacteriologist at the Kingston Dairy School, pointed out that one great sanitary requisite is good water. Most of our factories obtain their water from shallow wells, only a few using water from deep wells, springs, creeks or rivers. Good water can be secured from shallow or surface wells, yet such water is always classified as suspicious by sanitarians when it is used for drinking purposes. The reason for this simply is that such water is ground water, derived by seepage through soil of the rain or snow water. Shallow wells are usually placed quite close to the houses or factories which they are to supply, and thus the soil in their neighborhood is apt to become contaminated, and this contamination is sooner or later carried by seepage into the well. Fortunately, the soil is an excellent filtering and cleansing agent but it is only able to dispose of a certain amount of contaminating material. Such disposal takes time, so that if there is particularly heavy rain, the contaminating matter may be carried far into the earth below the purifying layer, and thus soak unchanged into the wells. If a large amount of this contaminating material finds its way into the soil, the earth becomes "soiled," and can no longer dispose of or purify the waste, which tends to soak into and mix with the ground water. Some surface wells are so constructed as to be mere surface drainage pits; that is they are not raised above the surrounding earth, and hence receive the surface washing direct. Farmers and makers ought to realize that a surface well does not get its water from some hidden source below, but is simply a collecting reservoir for the ground water derived from rain and snow water. And further, that if the soil in the neighborhood of such a well is saturated with slop water and house or factory drainings, that sooner or later these will make their way into the well.

Prof. Shutt's chemical analyses of farm well water have shown the majority of the wells to be little better than cesspools. From 100 to 200 samples a year are analysed at the chemical laboratory of the Central Experimental Farm, and not one-fifth of these can be passed as safe and wholesome. By far the greater number are utterly condemned, while others are reported as suspicious, putting them in the category of those that are unsafe to use. The bacteriological examinations of Dr. Connell, and Prof. Harrison of the Ontario Agricultural College, show similar results. Dr. Connell mentioned that out of a dozen factory waters sent to him last summer not one was found fit for use. All were badly contaminated, and for drinking purposes would be immediately condemned. Later Dr. Connell had an opportunity of seeing two of the wells from which the samples were taken. Both were subject to direct gross contamination from drainage water lying under the factory floors, and the streams of dirty urine could be seen opening into the wells about four feet below the surface. Both these waters were very foul, so foul that animals would not touch them. Such a well is generally termed a "mineral" one in the section, probably because the sulphuretted hydrogen of decomposition causes an odor somewhat like that of natural sulphur water.

A factory well cannot be kept uncontaminated, so long as the drainage and whey disposal system of the factory is not carefully looked after, so that the first essential for a pure water supply from the ordinary well is good drainage. Next is the proper construction of the well, including its covering, so as not to permit surface washings flowing in. As Prof. Shutt pointed out, this drainage water, apart from its actually poisonous character, is the very material upon which microbes and germs live, and water polluted from the barnyard, privy, etc., is always loaded with countless millions of bacteria. It is impossible to turn out first class dairy products where such water is used, so even from the dollars and cents standpoint, improvement in this respect is imperative.

It is not the smell or appearance of water that denotes its condition. Many samples of water, which to the sense of smell or sight or taste are perfect, yet simply reek with filth. The bacteria which we cannot detect by our senses are far more dangerous than those which we can detect.

Robinson, of St. Louis, who was awarded the contract for the laying of the rails to complete the C.N.R. track to Edmonton, was in the city to-day, and to a Tribune reporter said: "I am here to begin laying the track on June 1. I have got my organization here, and the only thing to be done now is to begin work. My bridge outfit is on the way, and will arrive about Monday or Tuesday."
 Asked as to when he thought he would have the contract completed, Mr. Robinson said: "The track will be laid as the grading is being done. As J. D. McArthur has that contract, and as I do not know how many men he has at work, I can give no idea as to when I will have laid the last length." Mr. Robinson will be in Winnipeg during the time which it will take to get the track laid.
